In view of current developments, there does not appear to be any need for Inspector Joe Sullivan to be in Atlanta, Georgia, or Memphis, Tennessee. We are now engaged in a fugitive investigation and all offices will have to focus their full attention to any leads which might develop as a result of our inquiries.

In view of the aforementioned, it would seem desirable to release Inspector Sullivan from his present assignment.

RECOMMENDATION:

I have spoken with Sullivan and he has no reason for remaining in Atlanta. It is recommended he be instructed to immediately proceed to Detroit, Michigan, and en route stop by the Seat of Government for a half-day conference with Domestic Intelligence Division.
